

Tatting-shuttle Wind'er. A device for holding and rotating the tatting-shuttle while the thread is guided between the prongs of the shuttle.

One plate of the shuttle is clamped by sliding sleeves on a bar attached to a rotating shaft in a handle which carries a spool of thread, which is thus transferred to the bobbin of the shuttle.

