

CAMBRIC. A kind of very fine and rather thin linen fabric, first made at Cambray, whence its name. It is in England sometimes made from cotton, and at other times linen thread.